

The Lebanon Express.

SATURDAY, APRIL 2, 1887.

Local and General.

Chas. Montague is still very sick. I. F. Conn's card appears this week.

Mrs. Andrew Trip is dangerously ill with heart disease. Churchill & Monteith have received during the week a brilliant lot of summer goods.

After next week THE EXPRESS will be enabled to give more space to local and other news.

The Corvallis Chronicle calls the Oregon Pacific R. R. the Oregon "Pauze" R. R.

Mountain House is the name recently given the school house on Samuel Hankey's place.

A. H. Phelps of the Yaquina Mall called at Lebanon this week in the interest of that paper.

M. H. Boyles of Portland, arrived at this place with his family, and will permanently locate.

Clocks can be looked upon as among the most lasting articles of personal property. They so rare change hands.

On Friday evening of last week the winter session of the Santiam Academy was closed with interesting ceremonies.

Blasts on railroad on the south side of Siskiyou can be plainly heard at Linkville, a distance of over forty miles.

In Needy precinct, Clackamas county, Mr. McKinney has lost two horses by the stagers and Mr. Jennings one.

Rev. Mr. Woolley, of this place, will deliver an address before the W. C. T. U. at Brownsville this Saturday evening.

Harry DuBois has been sent to the penitentiary from this county for larceny in a dwelling for a term of one year.

Mr. and Mrs. M. J. Monteith and Mrs. A. C. Churchill returned from a brief visit to Albany on Wednesday evening.

So warm has the weather been of late in Jacksonville that a few of the farmers and miners are already crying for more rain.

C. B. Montague is filling up the space in his store heretofore occupied by hardware with a fine stock of dry goods and clothing.

The Oregonian Railway (Lincoln Line) time card will appear next week with other particulars concerning this important road.

On account of the scarcity of fresh fish, M. E. Hearn did not get his supply on Wednesday. Hereafter, he thinks, he will not be disappointed.

Hon. T. J. Black, of Halsey, has resumed business, after settling up all of the affairs of the firm of Black, Porter & Co. The new firm will be Black, Pearl & Co.

Miss Mary Montague, who is now teaching at the Albany Collegiate Institute came out last Saturday evening and spent the Sabbath with her parents, returning Monday morning.

George Smith, an old gentleman in Turner, Mail county, was a few days since stricken with paralysis. The stroke at first was not thought to be dangerous, but at present the old gentleman is very low. His entire right side is helpless.

The Oregonian says that there is an impression that Hon. R. P. Earhart, ex-secretary of state, will be connected with the local management of the Oregon & California railroad after it shall have passed into the hands of the Southern Pacific.

A street Fakir beat the people of Albany out of many dollars during the week. The Fakir, after describing the manner, by which the Fakir relieved the crowd of their greentacks, very sensibly remarks: Never try to beat a man at his own game.

We have received the programme of the annual Teachers' Institute for the Third Judicial District and Linn county, to be held at Albany, April 6, 7 and 8. Judging from the programme it will be a very interesting session. All teachers should be in attendance.

The contest for the clerkship of the supreme court has finally been decided by the selection of Wm. H. Holmes, of Salem. All the disappointed aspirants will heartily join in congratulations, as Mr. Holmes is a sound lawyer, popular and deserving. He will make a good clerk.

The Indians are fast becoming civilized. The other day an eloquent talk place up in the Spokane country, with all the ecstacy of the most fashionable of the white people. The dusky maiden who thus took matters into her own hands, as it were, had only seen thirteen summers.

The following named persons have been appointed attorneys of the swamp land board: Morrow county, George W. Wright; Multnomah county, B. Killip; Umatilla county, Thomas Fitzgerald; Douglas county, John Hamilton; Klamath county, J. W. Humaker, newly created office.

The store of E. O. Channah at Corvallis was broken into the other night and $5.00 stolen. The Chronicle also says that a few nights ago the money drawer at the O. P. R. R. depot was rifled of its contents. The thief secured a few dollars, a silver watch and skipped with his booty.

A McMinnville paper says, one of the most disgusting spectacles we have seen upon our streets for a long time, was witnessed Tuesday. Several young girls from 15 to 18 years of age were returning from the college, where they are attending school, with lighted cigarettes in their mouths.

The census of the Umatilla reservation Indians is completed and foots up over a thousand of all sorts entitled to land. The commissioners think the average amount to each will be about eighty acres. The Indians have been considering their choice of the reservation, and say they mean to have the best of it.

Farmers and citizens generally are warned to look out for a man calling himself Moss, who is traveling around the country swindling farmers by making them agents for a Double Duplex Hay Fork and securing their signatures, which are transferred to a negotiable note for ten times value received. Pass him around.

In Morrow county the heaviest loss in sheep was Thomas Matlock, who had 2000 perish by starvation and storms. No matter how favored a country may be, wisely says an exchange, stockmen must make up their minds that they must prepare to take care of their animals in the winter, and to provide shelter and feed in abundance.

A few days ago we heard some inquiries made regarding the Umatilla reservation as to when it would probably be thrown open, for settlement. The La Grand Gazette says, the local land office officials at that place, have as yet received no instructions in regard to the disposal of the Umatilla reservation lands. It will be some time yet before anything is done.

Lecture.

Mrs. A. R. Riggs, President of the W. C. T. U. will lecture at the First Presbyterian church, Lebanon, next Tuesday evening, April 5th. Lecture free.

Strange Freak of Nature.

G. W. Smith, Esq., of this city is the owner of a cow, which gave birth to a heifer calf on March 12th, and to another one on the 29th, just 17 days after the first calving. The latter calf, though small, is well developed and the cow and calves are all doing well. If this cow keeps furnishing a calf every seventeen days for a few years, the Squire will no doubt go into the stock business. To say the least, this is certainly an unusual occurrence.

Divine Services.

Rev. G. F. Mead will preach at Middle Ridge school house tomorrow (Sunday) at 10 o'clock A. M., and at Rock Hill school house at 3:30 P. M. Rev. Starr will fill his usual appointments at the Academy on Monday and evening. Rev. Woolley will fill his appointments at South Brownsville C. P. Church morning and evening. Rev. Bowersox will preach at Sweet Home this (Saturday) evening at 7:30 Sunday morning, and at Independence school house in the afternoon.

A Big Suit.

There was filed in the United States supreme court a few days ago a transcript of a case which will come up in due season for argument, in which the United States is suing the Northern Pacific railway company for $1,100,000. It has been brought to the supreme court of the United States on a writ of error from the western district of Montana territory, and it is intended to test the right of the company to, or ability to, conduct growing on non-mineral lands lying along the line of its road, and within the limits of its land grant, where the lands are still being surveyed.—World.

Organized.

At the meeting called for the organization of a Prohibitory Amendment League, in this city, yesterday, the following officers were elected: President—D. Andrews. First Vice President—J. H. Stine. Second Vice President—Jas. Marks. Secretary—A. R. Cyrus. Executive Committee—G. F. Mead, A. Williams, Mrs. Jas. Marks, E. E. Montague and J. L. Gilbert. Meeting adjourned to meet at First Presbyterian church next Monday evening April 15th, at 7:30 o'clock. All are invited to attend.

School Report.

The following is a correct report of the primary school taught in district No. 16 for the term commenced December 6 and ended March 4: Whole number enrolled—49. Whole number of days attendance—2,400. Number of scholars absent—29. THOSE NEITHER ABSENT NOR TARDY DURING THE TERM. Kate Reynolds and Eunice Bishop. THOSE WHO AVERAGED 100 IN DEPARTMENT. Mary Peterson, Fay Dones, Jimmie Archer, George Carter, George Carlson, Emma Foster, Mattie Fowler, Eva Southland, Maud Parker, Minnie Hendrickson, Eva Roscoe, Maggie Corbin and Lulu Holman. THOSE AVERAGED 95. Johnnie Eshbar, Jack Freeman, Melvin Armit, Jackie Baber, Tommy Freeman, Louie Armit, Erub Markness, Neta Creech, Frankie Barkhart, Kate Reynolds, Eva Roscoe, Maggie Corbin, Jessie Andrews and Eunice Bishop. THOSE AVERAGED 90. Chester Stricker, Jessie Halston, Lydia Eaton, Mable Rabson, Carrie Unger, Neta Hoff, and Flora Fowler. THOSE AVERAGED 85. Clara Eaton, Gilbert Stricker and Johnny Fowler. THOSE AVERAGED 80. Grever Hackman, Lella Wray, Dave Harold and Fred Bashor. F. S. NEELY, Teacher.

Two Sides to a Question.

The Salem Statesman, a few days ago, published a letter from Dr. A. C. Kinney, of Astoria. In it he quoted the testimony of Gov. Martin, of Kansas, and James G. Blaine of Maine, who assert that prohibition in their respective states has been of immense benefit. In an editorial the paper asks if the doctor or any one else could explain the fact that in Leavenworth, Kansas, 200 saloons are open and defying the law. Believing that to be an old newspaper report, a temperance man at once sent this dispatch: To the Mayor, Leavenworth, Kansas: Is our newspaper correct—200 saloons open defying law? The reply came: LEAVENWORTH, Kas., March 18, 1887. J. W. WEBB, Salem, Or.—Your telegram received. There is not a saloon in Leavenworth. F. S. NEELY.

The Oregonian and Statesman tell us prohibition don't prohibit, upon the statement quoted from the Milwaukee Sentinel and other whiskey organs, against the interest of the people in general, yet they claim to be the papers of the people; yes, for a trawage only. S. S. G.

An Undesirable Change.

On Monday morning last the Oregonian Railway commenced carrying the mails from Portland to Coberg. While this change will make it convenient for many places on the line of the road, under the present schedule, it will work greatly to the disadvantage of those—especially Lebanon and Brownsville—as to communication between these places and Albany, requiring, as it does, four days to get an answer to a letter sent to our county seat. From this view of things a petition was circulated in Lebanon asking that the service be not changed, which received the signature of nearly every person in the town, which was placed in the hands of G. W. Smith, Esq., who went to Albany with it, were we understand he secured some 400 names. This should be sufficient to induce the post-office department to either let the service remain as it is or change the schedule time so as to have the train reach Spicer's at, say three o'clock P. M., going north and connecting with the morning train on the O. & C. road going south. This would give us a daily mail to Albany, which is of the utmost importance. Brownsville and Selco will both say amen to this.

Regarding the new Oregon codes the Portland World says: "Hon. Wm. Lair Hill is in town, en route for his new home in Oakland, Cal. Mr. Hill reports that as soon as he arrives in California he will send in the laws passed at the last session of the Legislature, and as soon as this is set up the Oregon codes will be published. At the time of the burning of the Bancroft building the codes were burned, and Mr. Hill had to do all the work over again. It was quite an undertaking, but it is finished at last, and Mr. Hill feels glad that his task twice performed is done."

BROWNVILLE NEWS.

In places the ground is getting to dry to plow. F. F. Coft visited Albany on Wednesday last.

Eibert Cable on Monday last, took charge of the Powell district school. C. M. Brown, of The Dalles, is visiting friends in Brownsville and vicinity.

John M. Bently, Sheriff of Umatilla Co., was in town visiting friends during the past week. "Don't forget" that Pillsbury keeps only the best and latest styles in watches, clocks and jewelry.

After the first day of April, you can catch trout legally, that is if they bit. N. B. bait should be used. Mrs. C. H. Banc and Misses Arminde and Lillie Bone of Halsey visited Brownsville on Wednesday last.

Mrs. John Brown has for the past week undergone great physical suffering from a severe attack of neuralgia. The contemplated change in mail routes took place on Monday last, all mail matter now going via the P. & W. V. R.

W. F. Bangssett of McMinnville, has been appointed postal clerk on the P. & W. V. R., between Portland and Coberg.

Chinese presents are becoming plentiful in this section. During the past week a number have been seen, within town limits. Thompson & Waters have during the past week, thoroughly renovated, remodeled and repainted their store, giving it a very bright, cheerful look.

Mrs. M. L. Hamilton, Misses Florence and Mily Skinner, and Miss Susie Alexander, of Coberg, and Mrs. Brownville friends a visit on Friday last.

Hop yard men are busily engaged plowing and cleaning out their hop patches. In some localities the ground is getting almost too dry to cultivate. Thos. Kay's imported bull, Tornado, aged two years, tipped the beam at 1,200 lbs., on Saturday last. A heifer of the same stock, fourteen months old, weighed 770 lbs.

Thos. Brandon passed through town on Monday last, with his imported Norman Percheron stallion, a beautiful full coal black, 17 hands high, weighing 1,625 lbs.

The little daughter of William Templeton jr., who has been so unwell, that her life was for some days despaired of, is tending towards recovery, and strong hopes being entertained of her recovery.

Dr. I. W. Starr received from Phil. Gray, of Harney valley, a letter stating that the snow had entirely disappeared, in that locality, the week before, and well had passed through the winter without extra care or feed.

The old maxim, is "early to bed and early to rise," but if you wish to raise bread, cake, etc., in a manner equal to 40,000 lbs. of hydraulic pressure, to 30 square inch, call on F. F. Coft and purchase one pound of Far West baking powder, price 35 cts, sample free.

Our calabose seems to have merged into a thing of the past, antique, nursery and in a way, of use, no more "drunks," no more disturbers of the peace, halls of the blind goddess, justice, a deserted, and the marshal's fees a liability. This speaks well for the morality of our town.

Sabbath services at the Baptist church were conducted by Rev. Carpus Sperry, who preached effective sermons morning and evening. Sunday school exercises at 3 P. M., were well attended; at 6 P. M., a young people's prayer meeting, in which much interest, was evinced, was successfully held.

On Saturday evening April 2nd the W. C. T. U. will give another free entertainment, to which all are invited. A very interesting programme has been prepared, consisting of recitations, songs and choice musical selections. Rev. Woolley of Lebanon and other eloquent speakers will address the meeting in favor of prohibition.

It will be remembered by our readers that some time past the Oregonian made mention of a young lady who had arrived at Portland in search of a young man who had betrayed her affections, and taken the advice of Horace Greely, "gone west." On Sunday last the search of the young lady was rewarded by finding the truant a short distance from Coberg, where a reconciliation was effected, and a wedding ring. Letters received from Wallowa valley state that the loss of stock is not so heavy as anticipated, the quarter loss being confined to a few isolated bands that were overtaken by storms, before shelter and feed could be secured. R. H. Coshaw has removed from Lostien to Joseph, where he will enter upon the duties of sheriff and locate his office. The family of T. J. Forey, who have moved to their ranch near Waller Jack succeeded in saving 400 head of sheep.

The Herald-Dissiminator of March 25, made mention of the mysterious disappearance of Schueler Ford, a young man 21 years of age, who had recently built a house in Coberg for the saloon business. On Sunday March 27, the remains of the unfortunate young man were found in the Willamette river, three miles below Harrisburg. The skull was crushed in, jaw broken, and from all indications Schueler Ford has been the victim of a murder and robbery, as from $700 to a $1000 which the deceased was known to have upon his person, has disappeared and has as yet been unaccounted for.

With the coming of spring all things begin to assume a rosy hue, the chronic grumbler who has been on the coast for the past winter, and "never before experienced such infernal weather, as the past winter has been," has dissolved partnership with the store, as he also absorbs the warm rays of "old Sol," inhales the balmy spring breeze admits that life is bearable, even in Oregon. Nature is putting on a bright green mantle, and all life welcomes the invigorating spring weather. In business circles all is activity, and merchants confident of a "good trade," are receiving large and assorted stocks of goods; business is as good as can be expected, farmers are more confident of good crops and even the doleful bleat of "Mary's little lamb" has assumed a more joyful note, now that "feed" is more of a certainty.

A retrospect of Brownsville shows that during the past year, the town has steadily grown and improved; some new industries have been introduced, a number of new buildings have been added to the town and many substantial improvements taken place, most of which are the following: The B. W. M. Co. have received from the east a number of improved looms, and a stationary engine has been added to the motive power; new buildings consisting of tailor shop, bleaching house and store rooms have been completed, many of the old model looms have been condemned, making room for new and improved machinery, placing the B. W. M. Co. in a position to fill necessary demands upon their manufacturing industry. Moyer Bros. have placed in their saw mill a complete set of new boilers, a new stationary engine, new gearing and pulleys, have built new addition to the mill and now have in their saw and mill all the latest and necessary improved planers, moulding machinery, and mechanical appliances for the complete system of wood working. The Brownsville creamery which was operated during the past summer, has proved a success, manufacturing a large amount of choice butter, which met with ready sale at over average prices. Operations will again commence in a short time. Dr. R. H. Coft has built a two story business house, which is handsomely ornamented and completely finished, the lower portion of which is occupied as a millinery store, and the upper portion consisting of a suite of rooms, provided with all necessary appliances for the practice of dentistry. Peter Hume has erected a business Brown house two stories in height. The ground floor is occupied as a furniture store, the second story being used for ornamental, sign and carriage painting. The lower portion of the Odd Fellows building has been leased by F. F. Coft for a general merchandise store, and has been greatly improved by a new front, show windows, counters and shelving. J. D. Arthur has been remodelled and improved by the addition of a new front. The residence of R. N. Thompson has undergone a great change in appearance, by the addition of a balcony and a thorough painting inside and out. The residence of W. R. Kirk has received a large and complete reconstruction by carpenter and painters. On the east side of town new residences have been built by J. A. Bishop, C. E. Stanard, T. S. Pillsbury and Mily Skinner, built and furnished with the latest and most commodious dwellings at a cost of many thousand dollars. As soon as the spring rains cease and the weather settles, work will commence on the new residence of W. R. Kirk, which, judging from the plans and specifications, will be not only a first-class building, but also an ornamental addition to the south-east portion of town. William Cox will soon build a new house in the south-east portion of town. T. S. P.
